Farm Camp at The Unquowa School combines the best of environmental education with traditional summer day camp. Children will explore the magic of woodland gardening and learn how farm gardens grow. Campers will spend mornings at Sport Hill Organic Farm planting, harvesting and collecting eggs. Afternoons will be spent drawing woodland plants and local birds, doing related crafts and preparing seasonal meals with Unquowa's chef.

From composting to recycling, from learning how to grow things to learning how to protect and attract the birds and insects that live in harmony with our farms and gardens, our camp's activities will encourage the next generation of stewards of the land.

Summer in the garden is about growth and blossoming. Every week will be a new adventure for our campers!

Weekly sessions from June 18-July 13 for students entering grades PK4-6. For more information and a detailed brochure/registration, visit www.unquowa.org or email us at mary.faulkner@unquowa.org.
