Norwalk's non-profit Crystal Theatre will be offering four separate theatre camps this summer. The first three take place at our air-conditioned South Norwalk studios at Ben Franklin Center and the final one is at beautiful Cranbury Park, in conjunction with the City of Norwalk.

In our 25th year, we continue with our philosophy of "learning by doing" in a supportive and fun atmosphere. We know kids want to "put on a show" and we do all we can to give them the training to look and sound great by providing the opportunity to work with superior teachers.

"Be a star!" this summer at Crystal Theatre's rockin' camps. Offerings include: A Spinning Tale (July 9-20) — an elaborate version of Rumpelstiltskin for students entering grades 5-11 with two performances on July 19 and July 20; Alice in Wonderland (July 23-28) — a fun-filled musical by Cheryl Kemeny with lots of parts for students entering grades 1-4 with two performances on July 28 at 3:30 and 6 p.m.; Broadway Boot Camp (June 25-29) — a cabaret camp that is all singing and dancing to great Broadway songs for students entering grades 5-11 with two performances on June 29 and June 30; Arts In The Park: (July 30-August 10) — a multi-arts experience in which grades 1-8 are divided into younger and older groups (grades 1-3 and grades 4-8) each presenting their own musical shows in addition to painting watercolors, doing crafts, dancing and outdoor games! Performances on August 10 at 6 and 8 p.m.

All camps culminate in shows at our air-conditioned theater located in South Norwalk. Register online today!
