Aux 3 Pommes offers language studies for both children and adults. Eight different languages are available including French, Spanish, Italian, German, Japanese, Mandarin, Portuguese and Russian.

The total language immersion program allows students of all ages to quickly become familiar and comfortable with the target language and culture. The children's programs encourage a love of foreign languages through games, songs, drama, videos and hands-on projects. The various activities also introduce students to the culture behind the language. Young students are provided with the beginning language blocks to communicate and they build upon them as they learn. The target language is spoken throughout the sessions to enable young students to get the level of comfort they need to begin to express themselves.

Started in January 2002, the school has received enormous interest and support from students, parents, teachers and community members. The Aux 3 Pommes team consists of highly qualified and mostly native-speaking teachers, and also greatly committed and efficient administrators.

The programs run on a term basis, tracking the Guilford School System. A Fall, Winter/Spring term is offered, which will be followed by the Summer immersion program. Each class will have six students per teacher, not exceeding 12 students. Preschool and after school programs, along with as of age 3/drop-off options and toddler/parent classes are available.

Adult language courses can be customized for personal and professional objectives, learning a travel vocabulary or personal heritage studies. Private lessons are also available.
